Upon inception of contract with Treestar for data analysis, a Treestar representative will meet with the contact person from the hiring company either in person or via internet based conference, and determine the work to be completed. During this interview the Treestar representative may offer advice pertaining to the analysis, but the hiring company is responsible for deciding what work will be performed. The Treestar representative will carry out the analysis however the hiring company instructs the work to be done, regardless of the opinion of the Treestar representative pertaining to the correctness or quality of the work and/or data.

The Treestar representative will at the completion of the interview provide an estimate of the time required to perform the work and the cost of the analysis. The Treestar representative will contact the hiring company if the cost exceeds the estimate by a pre-arranged percentage to explain the overrun and decide if further work should be performed or if the results should be submitted incomplete.
